

X-connector for recessed magnetic track - 20mm - White

The X connector allows the joining of four sections of recessed magnetic rail at a 90° angle, forming an intersection in the same plane. Its assembly is simple and includes all the necessary accessories to ensure optimal installation. Available in black and white. ** Does not include electrical connector**

Product data

|               |                                      |
|---------------|--------------------------------------|
| Housing color | White, Black                         |
| High          | 55mm                                 |
| Width         | 26mm                                 |
| Certs         | CE, ROHS                             |
| Warranty      | According to legal warranty: 3 years |
| IP            | IP20                                 |
| Long          | 125mm                                |
| Material      | Aluminum                             |
| Track Type    | Magnetic                             |
| Outdoor Use   | No                                   |

Product variants

| Reference | Attributes           |   |
|-----------|----------------------|---|
| CME-X-B   | Housing color: White |  |
| CME-X-N   | Housing color: Black |  |